WRIGHT LASHES AT ANGLIN'S CHARGE

President Will Not Intervene

Declares No Deadline Set

WASHINGTON—(INS)—The White House declared today that President Truman is keeping "hands off" efforts of the conciliation service to settle the coal and steel strikes and has set no "deadline" for ending the work stoppages.

Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross emphatically denied reports that the President is about to intervene in the situation.

Ross, after talking with the President, told reporters at a news conference: "Any attribution to the President of any plan to intervene in the coal or steel strikes or to fix a deadline on the efforts to reach a settlement through mediation is entirely without warrant."

Federal Mediation Director Cyrus S. Chung held 11th hour conferences in New York today with both the United States Steel corporation and CIO President Philip Murray. Leader of the half-million idle steel workers.

SEEK JOINT SESSION
It is believed that Chung might try to bring the parties back into a joint negotiating session. U. S. Steel and the union have not met around the bargaining table since the strike started Oct. 1 in a dispute over pensions.

A government official who forecast presidential intervention in the paralyzing strikes did not disclose just what steps the White House had in mind. He indicated, however, that seizure of the steel and coal industries was unlikely.

The official declared that the 27-day-old steel shutdown and the six-week-old walkout of John L. Lewis' 375,000 soft coal diggers are causing havoc in the nation's industrial life and threaten to throw the economy into a tailspin.

In the coal case, some government sources have predicted use of the 80-day injunction weapon of the Taft-Hartley law to return the miners to the pits. These sources said there was no idea at present of invoking the law in the steel strike.

Engel Says 'Frame-Up'

CHICAGO—(P)—Sigmund (Sam) Engel, whose smooth talk landed him in jail on a half dozen charges of swindling women, cursed and screamed in criminal court yesterday.

"You're a bunch of crooks," G-D-it. I'm being framed," the 73-year-old roving Romeo screamed to state prosecutors and police.

The jury hearing Engel's love swindle trial was leaving the courtroom when Engel blew up. Only a few minutes earlier Judge George M. Fisher had let the bench.

Engel's outburst followed testimony by Mrs. Annette Kuback, a South Bend, Ind., widow, that Engel married her, took $5,000 from her and then disappeared.

"You scoundrels are putting words in her mouth," Engel shouted at Lt. James Oakley of the state's attorney's police.

Edwin T. Breen, first assistant state's attorney, fanned Engel's resentment by asking him: "How do you like it, now that you're on the receiving end?"

Attorneys for the ordinarily dapper little man urged him to be quiet as they led him from the courtroom.

Purse Thief Kills Woman

CHICAGO—(P)—A 26-year-old mother was stabbed fatally last night after she had been attacked less than a half block from her home.

Mrs. Mary Lochirco, returning home from her factory job, collapsed in the arms of her stepfather after she had staggered to his grocery store. She died an hour later in a hospital.

She was cut severely on her throat, hands, face, tongue, arms and breasts. Police expressed belief she had been the victim of a purse snatcher.

Community Chest Drive Extended To Wednesday; $37,455 Still Needed

With the Mansfield Community Chest still lacking $37,455 in its drive for $141,663, James R. McConnell, general chairman of the drive, announced at noon today the campaign will be extended through next Wednesday afternoon.

McConnell said the drive, scheduled to end tonight, is being extended to give workers who have not yet turned in their cards an opportunity to do so.

He said, "We have a fighting chance to make our goal, if the people who still have pledge cards will increase their pledges over the amount they gave last year and see that their cards get to the Community Chest office."

At noon today workers reported a total of $104,208, or 73 per cent of the Chest quota. This figure is an increase of $11,420 over the amount reported yesterday.

In announcing the total, McConnell pointed out the figure, although short of the quota, is greater than the $102,132, reported on the corresponding day last year.

The Stars unit, headed by Robert Salsbury, moved ahead of the Feathers unit for the first time when it reported $52,956. The Feathers, headed by Orlo L. Smith, had a total of $51,252.

Among the teams which exceeded their quotas today was Team 30 of the Advanced Gifts division, captained by J. L. Morley, which reported $242 on a quota of $190.

Team 14 office supplies, of Commercial B division, headed by "Doc" Hammon, reported $481 on a quota of $415.

Bowman school team, of Public Employees division, captained by E. W. Kissell, exceeded its quota with $160 reported on a quota of $117.

Also meeting or exceeding their goals were the Ohio Brass company, of Industrial B division, with $8,348 reported on a quota of $8,300 and still incomplete; Richland Auto Parts, of Small Industries division, which reported its quota of $103; and Stevens Manufacturing company, of Small Industries division, with $75 reported on a quota of $60.

8 Convicts Escape In Daring Plot

Young Killer Leads Flight

NEW CASTLE, Del.—(INS)—Heavily-armed police guarded road blocks along the Pennsylvania-Delaware border today in a hunt for eight convicts, led by a "boy killer," who broke out of the New Castle county workhouse last night.

The convicts, including two life termers, locked one guard in a cell and used two others, at pistol point, as hostages in effecting their daring break.

Warden Ellwood Wilson said the men were heavily armed with weapons stolen from the prison arsenal.

The break occurred when all of the prisoners in one of the cell-blocks gathered in the prison "center" for an exercise period.

Warden Wilson said that one of the convicts, Danny Norris, 20-year-old slayer of a Wilmington detective, asked a guard to take him to the printing department for some checkup papers.

The seven other prisoners, hiding behind a stairway, overpowered the guard, Charles Lynch. They used his keys to lock the guard and another guard, Harry Harrington, toward the gatehouse where Lynch was ordered to call to a third guard to open the electric lock on the wooden gate.

Tower Guard Carl Pritchett raised his rifle to shoot, but refrained when the convicts used the guards as shields. The convicts forced the gate down with their shoulders and then scrambled over the outer wall.

They released Lynch and Harrington as Pritchett sent a volley of shots after them.

Nehru Jibes Red System

CHICAGO—(P)—Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru of India in an acid robe at "the Soviet system" answered last night some of the questions the world has been asking about his cold war stand.

Under such a system he said, "individual freedom ceases to exist."

In those words he went farther than he had gone before in his talks about the clash of democracy vs. communism—a clash he said in New York can end only when one or the other system perishes.

The Indian statesman said he still has no intention of tying his country to either side in the cold war.

"Why should we, of our own free will, tie ourselves up and make enemies?" he demanded. He said that he as an individual will not let himself be "pushed about" by anybody, and "I don't know why my country should be pushed about either."

Instead, he said, India will dedicate herself to the task of showing the world the road to peace—and getting it started on that road.

SOUP KITCHEN—Hard hit by lack of pay envelope, Mrs. Joseph Rogers, 24, and her children, 5-month-old Jean and 3-year-old Janet, stop in at Local 1843 in Pittsburgh's Hazelwood district for cupcakes and milk. Retail shops in steel cities report sales are down as much as 40 per cent.

Links Klan To 2 'Raids'

Member Tells of Cross Burnings

BIRMINGHAM, Ala.—(UP)—An admitted Ku Klux Klansman testified yesterday that the hooded order was responsible for at least two incidents in a series of terror raids here last summer.

Boyd Killingsworth, a state witness, admitted that he and nearly 100 other Klansmen "robbed up" after a Klan meeting and visited a cafe and the home of a middle-aged girl and mother, burning a cross at each place.

His testimony came in the trial of Coleman E. (Brownie) Lollar, a former special sheriff's deputy charged with the masked hlogging of the grandmother, 42-year-old Mrs. Hugh McDaniel.

Lollar's trial began in circuit court here yesterday. He was the first of 18 men indicted in connection with the hooded outrages to be brought to court. Killingsworth's testimony furnished the first definite linking of the Klan with the outbreak of masked violence which so aroused the state that civilian "vigilante" groups were formed and the state legislature passed an anti-mask law.

AMBUSH DENIED

MANILA—(INS)—Manda newspaper reported today that a motorcycle bearing Philippine presidential candidate Jose Avelino was ambushed north of Manila but the report was flatly denied by officials.

The communist leaders, sentenced last Friday, are being held without bail.

6,000 Fans See Bulldog-Pioneer Game

Six thousand Mansfield grid fans braved the chilly October air last night to watch Johnny Appleseed junior high outfight a strong John Simpson eleven for the city championship, 13-7.

The crowd, rivaling that at many senior high games, saw some top-notch football and some excellent maneuvering on the part of the two junior high school bands.

At half time, the John Simpson band started the program off by forming a locomotive with moving wheels and with smoke pouring from the stack, then swung into a rapid series of other formations. After honoring both schools with the

First Killing Frost Blackens Vegetation

The season's first killing frost wilted Mansfield vegetation today, sending the mercury to an official 28 degrees at 5 a. m. More of the same is predicted for tonight.

Although the weatherman said the mercury "hit bottom" last night with the lowest official reading of 20 recorded at Zanesville, the forecast was for temperatures in the shivers.

30's tonight. Mt. Vernon reported on unofficial low of 19 degrees this morning.

The frost, which accompanied the cold spell, left its mark on garden plants and autos early today. Garages reported cars froze up during the night while standing out.

Cincinnati was the only spot in the state which escaped freezing or sub-freezing temperatures. The low there was recorded at 34 degrees. An unofficial low at Mansfield early today was 27 degrees.

Since the heavy frost came later than usual this autumn, most crops have been harvested and corn is past the damage stage. Flower gardens, however, were blackened by the freeze.

Forecasters said the temperatures will go back up into the 30's today with the help of the sun, but will drop again tonight. Friday is expected to be warmer and last Mansfield's noon temperature was officially 44 degrees.

Meanwhile, Wolf said, leaders of another group would confer on the matter of bail with U. S. Attorney General J. Howard McGrath in Washington.

The communist leaders, sentenced last Friday, are being held without bail.

The crowd, rivaling that at many senior high games, saw some top-notch football and some excellent maneuvering on the part of the two junior high school bands.

At half time, the John Simpson band started the program off by forming a locomotive with moving wheels and with smoke pouring from the stack, then swung into a rapid series of other formations. After honoring both schools with the letters A and S, the Simpson band turned the festivities over to the Appleseed musicians.

The Pioneer's marched their way through a series of formations which included a pumpkin and school letters among others, then joined with the Simpson band in honoring the two junior high queens, Kathleen Bolin of Appleseed and Gretchen Snyder of Simpson.

The Appleseed band formed a base for a crown, and the Simpson band crossed the field to form the four peaks of the crown.

The two queens and their ladies-in-waiting were brought onto the field in new convertibles before the game.

Denfeld On Pan In Service Fight

WASHINGTON—(INS)—The Defense department abruptly canceled a meeting of the armed forces policy council today and awaited a decision by President Truman on the reported shakeup in the navy command.

Adm. Louis Denfeld had already announced his intention of attending "as usual" the armed forces meeting, which was to have been presided over by Defense Secretary Johnson at 10 a. m. today.

A few minutes before, the meeting was to open, it was canceled and rescheduled for 10 a. m. next Tuesday. No reasons for the cancellation were given.

The mystery developed when one of Denfeld's aides said he would be "retired" Wednesday. This failed to develop.

A spokesman for Gen. Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, said that Bradley had saved Denfeld from being removed.

Denfeld, and then only by appointing a successor.

Denfeld had the support of all the navy's full admirals and many officers of lesser rank in his testimony before Congress.

Vice Admiral Forrest P. Sherman of the Mediterranean fleet, eleven notches below Denfeld in rank, thus becomes the most likely man to succeed him.

The meeting today was to have been Denfeld's last with the top civilian defense officials, since he aired before Congress his charges of "arbitrary" and "improper" Pentagon policy.

CIO Girds For Fight

CLEVELAND—(P)—The CIO's confident right-wing majority planned today to expel at least three or maybe all 12 unions whose leaders have shown pro-communist sympathy.

A resolutions committee under the United Auto Workers' lead, Walter P. Reuther, was ready to fight it out on the floor of next week's convention if necessary.

It is determined to oust the three unions most critical of Philip Murray's leadership: the United Electrical Workers, with nearly 100,000 members, the Farm Equipment Workers with about 50,000, and the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers numbering around 100,000.

The plan of action decided upon by the powerful right-wing faction—but subject to plenty of pressure before it can be put into effect—calls for kicking out the three unions next Wednesday.

Charters of the three would be challenged on the floor. First resolutions will be offered Tuesday.

Should representatives of the nine other so-called left-wing unions come to the defense of the three most controversial unions, they will be tossed out, too, according to the plan.

POLIO CASES LOWER

WASHINGTON—(P)—The number of new infantile paralysis cases dropped last week for the ninth week in a row.

Rinehart Asks New Fair Site

"The only way Richland county can have a senior fair is to get a new location for it," Fair Board President Lewis L. Rinehart told a meeting of Farm Bureau legislative committeemen and labor representatives last night at North Lake park.

He said the county commissioners don't want to put any more money into the old site. His advice was to sell it and get a new one. He said if he were in the commissioners' place he probably would feel the same way about it.

"It's like putting money down a rat-hole," Rinehart told the group.

In order to get a senior fair the county must first agree on a program, he continued.

"We must know what we want and how much the people are willing to spend for what they want," Rinehart added.

Clarence Tugend, fair board treasurer, pointed out that the cost of a complete new fair-ground would be about $500,000. He added that the cost of this year's junior fair was $5,500. In addition about $1,000 worth of work was done getting the grounds ready for the fair. The board's income averages $5,900 annually, he said.

SITE 'RUN DOWN'
Norman Yarger, a labor representative from Local 17, United Rubber Workers, said the reason the city has lost interest in a fair over recent years is that the grounds have deteriorated rapidly.

Rinehart said the run-down condition of the grounds was partly the responsibility of the fair board and partly that of past boards of county commissioners. He pointed out that the Richland County Agricultural society owns only four and a half acres of the fairground property. He said the other 24 acres are decided to the county commissioners.

Tugend said the upkeep of the county property at the fair-ground is as much the responsibility of the county commissioners as the upkeep of the courthouse, children's home, and tuberculosis sanatorium.

The group decided the only way for the county to have a fair was to gain the backing of urban as well as rural residents. A committee will be appointed to present resolutions to the fair board's annual meeting about how to interest both groups and promote a fair.

The possibility of initiating a farmer-consumer cooperative in Mansfield was discussed briefly. Both the union representatives and the farm groups will assemble information about the cooperative plan for presentation at the next meeting of the group Nov. 30.

Schools Will Have Holiday On Friday

Pupils in all Mansfield and Richland county public schools will be given their first official holiday of the current school year Friday when city and county teachers attend sessions of the Northeastern Ohio Teachers' association in Cleveland.

This marks the 50th annual meeting of the association. The Mansfield area is part of the Cleveland district. However, a few Mansfield teachers are planning to attend the state school meetings in the Columbus district, which includes schools in the central and southern parts of the state.

It will be the second holiday of the week for senior high pupils, who were dismissed Monday as a reward for their good behavior at rallies before and after the Massillon game Friday night.

Links Democrat To Haynes

Candidates On Same Program

BY PHIL DEMPSEY

Thomas B. Wright, GOP candidate for mayor, last night slashed back sharply at his opponent's charges that he is "playing ball" with Earl A. McFarland, reputed Republican boss.

"I hardly know Earl McFarland," Wright told 40 members of the Mansfield Lions club and their guests at a dinner meeting in the ballroom of the Mansfield-Leland hotel.

"I've never seen or talked to Mr. McFarland during this campaign. I had to fight McFarland in the primary because he was for the present mayor. That doesn't sound like McFarland is behind me, does it?"

Reading from a statement prepared in answer to charges made the previous night in an address by Democratic mayoral candidate Charles O. Anglin, Wright said:

"The statement that I am associated with Earl McFarland is so ridiculous that it hardly needs an answer. However, that type of muckracking is in keeping with the character of a man, my opponent, who opened his campaign in 1947 by being introduced to the voters by those Haynes—and you all know those Haynes—(Haynes is the boss of a large segment of voters in the Fifth Ward—Ed.)

ANGLIN ANSWERS

Anglin, seated at the same table with Wright, retorted that Haynes is a taxpayer and the people he represents are taxpayers. "I'm representing those people just as I'm representing the other citizens of Mansfield," he added.

Anglin said he based his charges that the Republicans are run by McFarland on "information that top Republican committees are controlled by McFarland."

"Tom is a good boy but he fell in with the wrong bunch," Anglin said.

Wright summarized his position with the statement that Anglin was running his campaign "against the present administration and not for better government."

"I'm running my campaign for myself. It's easier to be against something than for something," Wright said.

Earlier in the discussion Wright said Mansfield area persons who use the downtown shops.

Slash Looms In Coffee

WASHINGTON—(INS)—Drought in Brazil and floods in Guatemala are brewing a tempest in the American coffee pot the like of which hasn't been seen since the days of wartime rationing.

Prospects that the inflow of coffee beans from these South American sources may be sharply reduced in months ahead is giving theitters to the futures market.

In the nation's capital one popular brand shot up five cents a pound in retail stores. Other brands followed suit with two and three cent increases.

Men in the trade took the view that a panic of coffee addicts is uncalled for. But one of them commented darkly:

"There's no telling what this thing may do. It's the old law of supply and demand."

One government source contributed the information that world consumers are facing a "statistical shortage"—that is, there won't be enough coffee to give everybody all he wants if present demand holds up.

Doctors Tell Of Expulsion

PORTLAND Ore. — — —

Traffic Light Effort Fails

COLUMBUS — — — It was going to be wonderful.
The traffic light system in downtown Columbus that is returning was going to give pedestrians more time to cross streets. Traffic was going to move at 24 miles an hour instead of 17 and motorists making turns at traffic lights were going to be able to "make it" the next one.
But Traffic Engineer Harry H.
Turner Jr., said after a trial run at a busy downtown intersection the idea which sounded so good in theory was a "complete failure."
Sadly, he ordered the lights restored to their old timing.

ping facilities are not going to tolerate the inadequate parking situation and traffic difficulties much longer.

"An average of 40,000 cars daily are expected to use 2500 parking places, including 465 metered parking places, in the downtown area. In the industrial section the condition is the same," he stated.

"Mansfield needs parking lots and parking garages," he continued. "If elected, I will authorize a citizens' committee to investigate conditions and sites for parking."

METER REVENUE

Commenting on an earlier speech by Anglin in which he stated free parking lots will be had, Wright said there is no such thing as a free parking lot. "Someone must pay," he declared.

"My opponent says he will use the parking meter revenue to defray the cost of these lots," Wright said. "There is $50,917 yearly meter revenue. With repairs, meter maintenance, industrial insurance, supplies, personal services and the like subtracted, the revenue is cut to $3,000."

"You can't build much on $3,000 per year," Wright declared. He also stated Anglin mistakenly figured the yearly revenue was over $351,000.

Anglin, in his talk, corrected Wright and stated the $351,000 was the total revenue taken since the meters were installed.

Continuing, Wright promised additional off-the-street parking facilities in Mansfield in the "foreseeable future." Touching upon the traffic situation he stated 17,000 persons going to and from work every day need an improved system of traffic and promised to do all in his power to "meet these demands."

In Anglin's turn to speak, he said revenue from meters was originally intended to be used for proposed parking lots but was manipulated to other out-lets.

"It was legitimate," he declared, "but not good business."

"Wright said he would plan

Lt. Harold Kauffman Rites Set Saturday In Loudonville

LOUDONVILLE—Rites will be held in Zion Lutheran church here at 2:30 p. m. Saturday for Second Lt. Harold F. Kauffman, 31, who was killed in action as an Eighth Air Force navigator over Germany on April 29, 1944.

Rev. Harold T. Grabau, pastor, will officiate. Graveside military services will be held in Loudonville cemetery by Loudon Post No. 257, American Legion.

The war hero's body was returned from Europe aboard the Army transport USS Kingsport Victory. Lt. Kauffman was a member of the local Eagles lodge and the Zion Lutheran church.

A graduate of the local high school and Ohio State university, Lt. Kauffman is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Kauffman of Loudonville; four brothers, Carl E. of Ashland, Robert F. of Kessler Field, Biloxi, Miss., and Paul L. and Donald E., both of Butler, and two sisters, Miss Jean at home and Mrs. Helen Pifer of Ashland.

The body will lie in state at the church for an hour before services. Friends may call at the Gilbert funeral home here from 7:30 to 9 p. m. Friday.

for parking facilities," Anglin said. "The Democrats already have definite plans for these facilities. We know just where to put the lots."

He said the lots and parking ramps will be financed with mortgage revenue bonds.

"My opponent says we must economize," Anglin added. "He's been a member of council for the last two years and helped spend the city's money."

Anglin also added that Wright's stand on the parking situation was the "first concrete plan on parking my opponent has made during his campaign."

Moving to other fields, Anglin stated he has plans for a health center and increased recreational facilities, both to be financed through federal and state funds.

He also stated he intends to have a building code drawn up to protect the citizens of Mansfield.

In closing the meeting, Lion President Joseph Roby declared, "The city of Mansfield will not lose the election, no matter who wins."

Beef Cattle Prices Skyrocket, Near Record High

PAGE THREE
Mansfield (Ohio) News-Journal
Thursday, October 27, 1949
A cubic foot of gold weighs 1,200 pounds.

Prime Stock Selling To Cafe Trade

Won't Appear On Retail Mart

CHICAGO — Beef on the hoof is selling today at near record prices in the union stock yards.

But don't let that worry you. You aren't going to find 'hat beef in your butcher shop with a near-record price tag. In fact, you aren't going to find it there.

The top 1949 price for cattle, paid yesterday was $41.50 a hundred pounds for prime steers. That will cut out to prime meat. It's the kind of meat which is sold directly to name restaurants, clubs and hotels. It doesn't get into the butcher shop.

"People who will buy those steaks won't care much whether the price is $3.00 or $5.00," one livestock commission man said. "There's always a steady demand for beef from those restaurants, regardless of price."

Percy Clark, a cattle feeder of Ogden, Iowa, sent in the top price load, which consisted of 17 head of Aberdeen-Angus steers. Clark is often represented at the international livestock show, and local traders thought these steers had been culled out from loads he planned to send to the show.

Buyer of the top load was Wilson and company, meat packers. The head of the beef department said last night that the meat from the load had not as yet been sold.

"It isn't the type of meat which will go through regular retail channels to the corner store, though," he added.

In the past two weeks prices for prime cattle have skyrocketed. The price is now only 10 cents a hundred pounds under the all-time peak made in September of last year. If that peak is to be sealed, livestock men think it will have to be done before the livestock show starts Nov. 25.

Average grades of cattle haven't moved up with prime steers, and one result is that the price spread between the top and bottom of the steer scale is today the widest on record. There are far more cattle grading average than the few, scattered head grading prime.

Aged Get $58,811

Richland county's aged were paid a total of $58,811.70 during October, it was reported today by Mrs. Mae Lex, manager of the county's Aid for the Aged office. These figures represent monthly allocations to the 1,245 persons on the aid for aged lists in the county. Mrs. Lex said.

Of this number 11 recipients live at the county home, where average monthly checks amount to $34.26, she said.

Last month the county Aid for the Aged division spent $426.01 for medical care of applicants who required "extraordinary care," Mrs. Lex said.

This service is provided to recipients of old-age pensions following passage of a bill two years ago which set up $200 as the maximum amount allowed for operations or medical care considered by officials to be "extraordinary," the division manager explained.

Blasts Fire Danger In College Dorms

CHICAGO — A college safety official said today that many campus dormitories lack the barest fire prevention equipment and "can easily be converted into blazing tombs."

John J. Ahern, director of the fire protection and safety engineering department of Illinois Institute of Technology, advised the nation's colleges to take immediate action or face a wave of restrictive legislation.

GI's Shoving U. S. Civilians Around

FRANKFURT — The ordinary American civilian in Germany is getting a little taste of what it's like to be an occupied people.

He's getting it from some soldiers of his own army, which makes it doubly bitter.

In a changeover which began last July, most American civilians in Germany, excluding army and state department employees, were ordered to live on the German economy.

This meant German lodgings, food and transportation, among other things. Civilians were barred from army theaters, stores, gas stations and similar installations.

To the average soldier, the civilian became undistinguishable from the German population.

Germans often get a shoving around from brash, young U. S. troops. But they rarely talk about it.

"It has always been the same in every country," they say. "Occupation troops are all alike."

One German remarked: "We have an old saying, 'What the combat troops win, the occupation troops spoil!'"

But it comes as a shock to an American who is mistaken for a German.

An American in a business suit who entered a military post building was startled when a soldier elbowed him into a corner and grated:

"What're you doin' here? This building ain't for Krauts." The building actually was open to Germans.

Driving a car can be an experience all its own.

An American newspaper, driving a German-made car at night, passed a sedan filled with soldiers. They shot past him, cutting in short and forcing him to swerve to avoid a collision.

Then they reversed their spot-light and played it into his eyes, temporarily blinding him.

A civilian escorting a woman gets used to "approaches" from soldiers who think they are a German couple.

American girl civilians run a mild gauntlet, too.

One girl government employee hunted up a devious route to get to the army post exchange.

"It saved nearly an hour which I formerly spent fending off the wolves who thought I was a frauchin," she said.

Not all American soldiers attempt swashbuckling domination.

There are many who carry out a tedious occupation assignment in a business like, orderly manner. Some of the best of these wear the rifle badge sign of a combat soldier.

Sometimes the situation takes a tragically serious turn.

Recently in the town of Mainz four American soldiers were arrested in connection with the fatal beating of a German civilian.

Some American soldiers have taught American civilians to use louder-than-usual tones around them. It often prevents embarrassing mistakes in identity.

Fund Total Must Be Reached!

PEOPLE closest to the Community Chest drive for $141,663 see five major reasons why it is necessary to extend the campaign beyond today's deadline. And the first is simply that A DOLLAR IS NOT ENOUGH!

Scores, possibly hundreds of citizens who could easily afford to contribute more, fluff off their responsibility to the eleven community agencies in the chest and the USO by handing the solicitor a dollar. That's less than a dime apiece for each of the agencies for a full year's operation.

A simple way to figure a reasonable contribution is to set down what you would give each agency if it were conducting a separate drive, and then add up the total to set the amount of your pledge.

Another reason for lagging of the drive is that people who work in the city but live elsewhere say, "We gave at home." Nationally, it is the policy to contribute in the community where you earn your living.

The workers themselves, who are contributing time and energy to the drive, deserve congratulations. But they, too, could help by reporting more quickly to campaign headquarters. Many still had not reported last night with the official end of the drive less than 24 hours away.

Finally, the boss in every store, office, or factory can do much to help the campaign by telling his employees that he is for the campaign and why. If his attitude is listless, he can hardly expect his workers to be enthusiastic.

Remember, it's not too late to give—or to give more.

Campaign Is At Lively Stage

WITH election day coming along a week from next Tuesday, the local campaign is livening up nicely—especially as related to the contest for office of mayor, in which aggressive campaigning is being done by each of the candidates.

This is as it should be—with probable effect of getting out a considerably larger vote than if neither of the contenders showed any particular interest in campaigning in his own behalf.

Mansfield voters have heretofore shown preference for choosing municipal officials considered most likely to give satisfactory service in positions to which they are elected, rather than being influenced by party politics, and this seems likely to again be a determining factor.

What needs emphasis right now is that every possible effort should be made to "get out the vote" on Tuesday, Nov. 8, and it is gratifying to note that the Junior Chamber of Commerce is making this a special activity.

Britain's Production Hampered

THE WORK of the Labor government is not solely to blame for the British failure to produce. Price fixing by associations of manufacturers is an everyday occurrence, according to Raymond Daniell, a British economist.

He says there are 1,100 trade associations in the United Kingdom, each of which is entrusted by the government with the allotment of raw materials to its members. This results in fixing of prices and production quotas, and these are so arranged that even the least efficient member of the association can make a profit, says Daniell.

He says the unions have winked at this, presumably so that their own restrictive practices will not be attacked in turn. And the managers are similarly lenient to the featherbedding rules of the unions. Between the two, if this economist may be believed, British industry is in a bad way.

Greenland May Have Mining Boom

MINING opportunities are opening up in Greenland. Lead ore in large quantities has been discovered there, according to the report of Dr. Laue Koch, a Danish scientist. At one place a great amount of 84 per cent lead, in plain sight, has been found; the estimate is that a million tons may be available for mining there.

With rewards like this awaiting a mining company, it cannot be long before some organization will brave the rigors of the Arctic. Far north as it is, Greenland does enjoy a brief summer when grass and flowers bloom and the huge island justifies what would otherwise seem its totally inappropriate name.

After all, even Greenland can hardly be colder than the windswept areas around Canada's Great Slave Lake, where the discovery of gold has brought into being the boom town of Yellowknife. And Northern Siberia, where the Russians have developed considerable settlements, is even bleaker.

The rewards of gold have led men to endure far greater hardships than Greenland might offer. If there is wealth to be had there, men will appear to claim it.

Now that the lawn mower has been stored away, make sure that the snow shovel is within reach.

Survivals of African Culture Disclosed

ONE of the strange stories of our time has been unfolded by Dr. Lorenzo Dow Turner, Negro professor of English at Roosevelt college, Chicago, who has uncovered survivals of African culture among the quarter million Negroes inhabiting the Rice Islands off the coasts of South Carolina and Georgia.

These Negroes are descendants of slaves who were brought to America at the time of the earliest settlements. Some of those living on the islands never have been on the mainland or seen a white man at close range.

They speak a language which includes many words brought by their ancestors from the jungles of Africa.

Dr. Turner found that some of the words in the Rice Islands language had their origin in Liberia. I was particularly interested in this because in 1942 when I spent some time at Fisherman's Lake, Liberia, I was astonished to run into an American colloquialism dating back to slave days. It happened like this:

Just at the time of the American invasion of North Africa, November 7, I started to fly from London to the Middle East. Because the flight normally would take us near the scene of the fighting, the plane was diverted to Liberia, and then down the Nile Valley to Cairo.

I got hung up in Fisherman's Lake, where there was in American military headquarters, for several days, and spent considerable time prowling about the neighboring jungles.

As you will recall, the state of Liberia grew out of the labors of the National Colonization Society of America, which was organized in 1816 to free American Negroes and colonize in Africa. Some 12,000 "American" Liberians now live in the republic and they are descendants of American slaves.

Well, I was tramping about among some native huts in the jungle when I came across a native woman sitting in front of her home and spoke to her. I really didn't expect to get an answer, thinking that she wouldn't understand me, and was surprised when she replied in good American. I stopped to chat with her and during the conversation she employed a very old U. S. colloquialism, which led me to ask her where she learned it.

"My great grandparents were slaves in America," she replied, "and came here when the American settlement was made. I learned my English from them."

This woman, who was perhaps forty, never had been away from the jungle, but the language and customs of pre-Civil War days in the United States had been handed down to her. She spoke well, and her little jungle home was neatly kept. Many other natives in that area spoke English, or a brand of it, which probably meant that they too were descendants of American slaves.

Somebody Will Have To Do the Cleaning Up.

WASHINGTON REPORT

By SENATOR ROBERT A. TAFT

THE first session of the 71st Congress has adjourned. It could have finished everything and adjourned on August 1 if there had been any definite plan on the part of the majority leadership. That leadership was torn between the insistence of the President for his Fair Deal program, its own doubts about this program, and the determined opposition which it met from Republicans and Democrats alike. The 81st Congress has been more radical than the 80th Congress but a majority have rejected just as definitely the Truman philosophy of government with the exception of the dangerous policy of spending more money than we have. Literally thousands of measures have been proposed to this Congress dealing with every phase of human activity. It has been a difficult job of selection but, in general, I have been in accord with the decisions which have been made.

We have rejected those measures which seemed to us calculated to destroy the basic principles of liberty, equality, and rule of law which have characterized the American system in the past.

On the other hand, we have approved many of the measures which attempt to improve the present system, cure its abuses, check its excesses, and make up its deficiencies.

In the economic field, therefore, we have rejected proposals like the Spence bill, the Murray bill and the Branham Plan to subject all commerce, industry, and agriculture to government price-fixing, direction, and control. At the same time, we have approved a minimum, flexible price-support program to prevent the bottom dropping out of agricultural prices. We have approved a minimum wage to prevent economic oppression where the bargaining power of workers is weakened through lack of organization.

IN THE welfare field, we have rejected a compulsory health insurance program proposing to turn over to a federal bureau complete control of all private and local health activities, a plan which would bring a federal bureaucrat into every home. At the same time, we have passed several bills to improve our existing health system, such as a bill to give federal aid to the construction of hospitals where the need is greatest, and federal aid to medical schools to permit the education of more doctors, dentists, and nurses.

We have passed a bill to subsidize housing for those who are so poor that they cannot afford to rent even the oldest type of decent housing, and thus check the development of slums.

At the same time we have given almost unlimited financing aid to the housing industry to encourage the construction of homes for all those who can possibly afford to pay for them.

The Senate has also passed a bill for federal aid for primary education where the state is so poor that it cannot provide a minimum, decent education for all its children. In all these measures, we have expressly prohibited federal interference and insisted upon administration by local communities.

We have rejected the proposal to repeal the Taft-Hartley law, insisted on the abolition of special privileges for labor union officials and on the restoration of equality in labor-management relations.

CONGRESS still feels that the greatest danger we face is the substitution of totalitarian government control for the system of liberty which has brought peace and prosperity to the United States.

It has therefore rejected the proposals which would establish in this country the labor-socialist form of government which is bringing bankruptcy to the people of Great Britain.

The insistence of Congress on maintaining liberty and equality in America has met the bitter opposition of the officials of the national labor organizations and Mr. Truman's other left-wing supporters. They will carry that fight into the 1950 elections. In November 1950 the future course of America will be determined by the men and women who vote.

Down Honey Creek Way

Asters and Thistles

By LOIS ADAMS BYERS

OUT beside our grapevines, for the past two months, we have enjoyed to see a perfect "bride's bouquet" of white calico asters. For symmetry and daintiness, no flower can compare with this hardy, branching late-bloomer.

The clusters of white blossoms each on a half-inch branch from a sturdy central stem in graceful sprays. When one set of flowers has bloomed, another comes into flower, so that now there are dowdy seeds as well as fresh blossoms on the same stems.

All along our gravel road, these sunny white and pale purple flowers drift down the banks or follow the water-courses. They prefer moist spots.

Sometimes called starved asters, perhaps because of their small size, they spring up inconspicuously during the summer and make ready their gift of autumn beauty so quietly that they are rarely noticed—just taken for granted.

Were such flowers to bloom in early spring, we would travel miles to see them—but after all the gorgeous spread of October color upon wooded hills the asters linger, to merge their frail valiant beauty with that of the first snow.

THISTLES, too, can be interesting. Twelve-year-old Will culled me out to see a big one by our barnyard bars. The dark green downy leaves have irregularly fluted points, each barbed with a half-inch spine.

The stems look succulent and moist, but nothing can eat them. They make a beautiful pattern in the grass, like a wheel with soft downy-looking shoots emerging at the hub.

Those infant leaves look so delicate and soft that one is tempted to touch them with gentle fingers—but if you try,

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Find Loophole To Avoid Income Taxes

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Congressman Walter A. Lynch, New York democrat, and a conscientious member of the ways and means committee, will head a subcommittee to investigate an important loophole in the tax laws whereby life insurance companies do not pay income taxes.

The life insurance companies—with admitted assets of over 50 billions and investments in practically every kind of business—paid not a dime in income taxes to the federal government for 1947 and 1948. And they will pay none for 1949.

Despite months of negotiations with tax experts in the treasury department, spokesmen for the insurance companies have refused to agree to a recommendation for even a token "stopgap" tax payment of $45,000,000 a year for 1948 and 1949—even though going "scot free" for 1947.

At present the $1,500,000,000 annual net investment income of life insurance companies is not taxed—either as to the company or as to the policyholders. The job of the Lynch committee is to decide what taxes should be collected, and then to prepare legislation to close the loophole in the present law.

The committee has to do all this in the face of a lobby considerably more powerful than the real estate, oil, or public utility lobbies.

It will be interesting to see how Congressman Lynch makes out in his lonely battle against the giants.

Neutral Nehru

SOME people were disappointed when Prime Minister Nehru of India issued his statement that India would take no sides in the cold war. In view of India's strategic position between the East and the West, his words fell with the unrelenting reverberation of a rock on a polished ballroom floor.

Nehru's neutrality, however, was not news to state department officials who invited him to this country and who knew that, as between the Russians and the British, Nehru had spent most of his life fearing the British. To change this suspicion of the western world was specifically why they invited him.

Nehru spent 13 years in a British jail, considers Russians more Asiatic than European, governs a people who are not much more than one rice bowl ahead of starvation.

Instinctively, Indians think of Russia as having a higher standard of living than theirs and are less fearful of the Soviet than of their old rulers, the British.

U. S. diplomats don't expect to change this point of view overnight, realize that Nehru couldn't possibly announce, while here, that he will lead an anti-Soviet bloc in the middle of Asia.

But after he returns to India, they hope that gradually he can line up his country on the side of the United States. Note—Nehru and Secretary of Defense Johnson became great friends while Johnson served as special ambassador to India. That is why Nehru is spending a week end with Johnson at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.

"Whistle-Stop" Campaign.

THE DETAILS haven't been worked out, but President Truman is planning at least one trip to whip up popular support for the planks of his Fair Deal legislative platform which Congress has not yet passed.

He confided this to representatives Frank Karsten of Missouri and Mel Price of Illinois when Karsten reminded him that the toughest battles—increased taxes, civil rights, aid to education—were to be fought in the January session.

"You ought to go out again this fall as you did during last year's campaign and lay these issues squarely before the people," suggested the Missouri congressman. "There's still much to be done and we'll need all the popular support we can muster to enact this pending legislation."

"I persuade easily," replied the President. "In fact, I've already planned one trip to Minnesota early next month. I'm going by train and may make some stops on the way, though that's still undecided."

And So, On and On.

CONGRESSMAN Franklin D. Roosevelt, jr., has an 8-year-old son named Christopher who may turn out to be another chip off the old block. Recently Congressman Roosevelt called his son on the telephone in New York and asked him if he would like to come to Washington. Christopher said he would under certain conditions.

"If I come to Washington will I be able to see the President?" asked Christopher.

"I think so," replied Congressman Roosevelt.

"Well," continued Christopher, "will I be able to sleep in our own beds in the White House?"

Roosevelt roared. When Christopher arrived in Washington, his father drove him around the Capital, then tried to park to go inside a government building. Only a tiny space was available, so Roosevelt asked a policeman if he could park in a restricted area. The policeman, noting FDR, jr.'s congressional license plate, said okay. As Roosevelt and his son got out of the car, Christopher turned on the traditional Roosevelt grin, looked up to the policeman and said:

"Officer, meet my Congressman."

What President Can Do

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — The coal strike started Sept. 19, the steel strike Oct. 1. What can President Truman do to stop them?

No law gives him power to stop them altogether. He can interrupt them—at most for 24 months—by using the Taft-Hartley law.

Which means: He could get the strikers back to work for 80 days. But at the end of that time they'd be free to strike indefinitely.

Couldn't the President use T-H all over again to interrupt the strikes another 80 days and so on? No. The T-H law doesn't give him that power. Once used in a strike to delay or interrupt it, that's all that can be done with T-H.

Mr. Truman probably would be very reluctant to use T-H anyway. He dislikes to intensely and campaigned against it for re-election.

Philip Murray, leader of the striking CIO steelworkers, and John L. Lewis, leader of the coal miners, hate T-H.

If he used it, Mr. Truman probably would lose the friendship and backing of Murray who supported him in the 1948 elections.

Over the week end Murray said he thought Mr. Truman would be unfair to use T-H to force the steelworkers back to work, interrupting the strike.

Why? Because, Murray pointed out, before his strike started Oct. 1 he had postponed it three times, or 77 days, without use of T-H and merely agreeing to Mr. Truman's request for delay in the hope of a settlement.

Suppose Mr. Truman decides to use T-H. This is how it would work.

First, he must decide the steel and coal strikes have forced the nation into a national emergency, that its health and safety are in danger. It's a question whether that point has been reached yet.

Then he'd appoint a fact-finding board, one for each strike, to examine the dispute and report to him on the facts. Such a board cannot recommend anything.

Procedure Explained.

THE NEXT step, if there's still no settlement: Mr. Truman tells the attorney general to ask a federal judge for an injunction—court order—to stop the strike for 80 days at the most.

The strikers can't be interrupted at all—and nothing further can be done under T-H—unless the judge agrees there's a national emergency and is willing to issue the injunction. Let's see that he does that in these cases.

The strikers are supposed to go back to work. Then the companies and the unions are supposed to try to reach an agreement.

At the same time the President calls back his fact-finders. Within 60 days they must make their final report to the President, particularly on the latest offer made by the companies.

Then the national labor relations board (NLRB) steps into the picture, arranging for a vote by the workers.

They vote—no matter what their leaders say—on whether they want to accept the companies' last offer. If they vote to accept, that's the end. The strike is over. Agreement is reached. This vote must be completed within 15 days after the fact-finders make their final report, mentioned above, to the President.

Five days after the vote is taken, the NLRB must make the result known to the attorney general. Then he must ask the judge to end the injunction. The attorney general has no alternative. The injunction is lifted. It could not last more than 80 days under the law.

But suppose the vote was against accepting the companies' last offer. Then the workers are free to strike again. There is nothing further the President can do under T-H to stop the renewed strike or interrupt it once it starts again.

But, under T-H, he can lay the whole case in Congress' lap. Possibly then Congress might pass some special law to stop the strike.

If Mr. Truman started the T-H wheels going today, it might be some time in November before his fact-finders reported back and the President was able to get an injunction interrupting either strike.

At the end of 80 days, if there were still no settlement, the strikes would be resumed, this time in the dead of winter. But by that time Congress, which returns in January, would be back in session.

Under the draft law the government can seize an industry which is failing to fulfill government orders for materials. The strike-forced shutdowns in coal and steel undoubtedly are interfering with such fulfillment.

Some people argue the President could use this law to seize the coal and steel industries and smash the strikes. Others argue this way:

That law wasn't meant to stop strikes but only to be sure companies fill government orders. It's unlikely the President would resort to such a law since strike-stopping powers are not clearly stated.

Dave Boone Says:

WELL, they were pretty lucky at that U.N. cornerstone laying. They got the stone in place before any new wars started.

And the last speech for world harmony was concluded with no interruptions by ultimatums.

The President of the U.S.A. and scores of other notables were on hand, but it was the unseen audience that counted with me. I mean the great ghost audience of the war dead.

They made a speech, too, all in chorus and limited to nine words: "This time you had better not be fooling, boys."

Japan Loses Markets For Most Goods

Textiles Posing Chief Problem

By FRANK L. WHITE

OSAKA, April 27. — With the China market eliminated, evidently for years to come, many Japanese believe that Japan soon must sell her manufactures on the world market for whatever prices they will bring.

That this will bring outcries against "dumping" was acknowledged by one of Japan's leading exporters and economics authorities, Y. Iwai, in an interview.

Iwai feels however the rapid recovery of Japanese industry particularly in lines manufacturing for export, leaves only these alternatives.

Either sell at free prices especially the textiles on hand, or continuing large scale American aid to maintain a minimum living standard.

Cotton textiles are Japan's most pressing problem. The cotton mills were the first to be reconstructed and have been operating at capacity on raw cotton furnished by the United States government.

The last available figures show 108,028,000 square yards of cotton fabrics in stock in July against exports for the same month of only 62,751,000 square yards. Production for the same month was 86,249,000 square yards. Since then production has been increasing.

No one will say how much cotton cloth is now on hand but Iwai declares warehouses are bulging. He attributes a 40 per cent decline in cotton exports since June to unsettled world conditions particularly in Southeast Asia and to the British pound devaluation.

Today's GI Joe a Bigger Problem Than In the Past

MEXICO CITY, April 27. — Today's GI Joe is a much bigger problem to the army psychologist than was the doughboy of 1914-18.

While his wartime mental problems are growing the fall back home are learning to take war in their stride.

These were conclusions in a report on "war psychoses" prepared for delivery Wednesday before the 12th International Congress on Military Medicine and Pharmacy Dr. J. Paraire, medical commander at Val-De-Grace hospital of Paris, France, wrote it.

Dr. Paraire says not only are the mental difficulties of the modern soldier more complex, but there are more of them. He says there were three times as many soldiers in World War Two as in World War One and ten times as many were in hospitals with nervous complaints.

He adds: "The second world war shows the curious result of an increase of mental disorders among armies and a decrease among the civil population."

Comparing the two wars the difference in the type of nervous troubles is striking. The

Now They're Sitting Pretty

Squint Miller, who's working as a telephone lineman, was telling me about some birds that got into a fight with his company.

Seems a couple of woodpeckers set up housekeeping in a telephone pole. Nobody minded them living there, but they kept pecking at the wires—causing one short circuit after another.

Finally, the telephone people—who had nothing personal against the birds—just stopped up the hole where they lived. But they kept coming back. At last, the company

NEW YORK — An apparently new eye disease that blinds children was described Wednesday to the American Public Health association.

It affects many premature babies, usually starting a month after birth. A membrane forms behind the lens of the eye causing blindness usually in both eyes.

Each year about 650 premature infants develop the disease first brought to public attention in 1942, they said. It is now one of the chief causes of blindness in children of pre-school age.

The disease retrolental fibroplasia is apparently due to something that happens after birth and not before they found during a study of premature infants. The cause is not known and no successful treatment has been found yet once the disease is well underway.

Accident Leads To Discovery

American Party Stumbles On Lost City

NEW YORK — (INS) — men studied the ruins of what was once a city of 100,000 which once quartered Alexander the Great's conquering legions and then vanished mysteriously in time and the shifting desert sands, has been rediscovered — by some American anthropologists looking for water.

It's name was Peshawaran, and its sudden fall from glory about the time of the crusades has mystified archaeologists and students of the East for decades.

But now, thanks to the lucky discovery by a three-man expedition from the American Museum of Natural History, the strange story of Peshawaran may become known to the world.

Walther A. Fairservis, of the museum's anthropology department, was a member of the expedition. Monday, Fairservis disclosed that last August, while riding in a jeep across the Dushinargo, "the desert of death" in western Afghanistan, he suddenly saw the outlines of what appeared to be a community.

"In the distance we saw some reddish brown mounds," he said. "They looked as if they might be a village. As we got nearer we could make out a great fortress, the domes of a mosque and a massive wall with towers."

The anthropologists, fascinated, inspected the sand-covered, deserted community. There were many wells, but all were dry. For eight days the three men studied the ruins of what was once a city of 100,000 which once quartered Alexander the Great's conquering legions and then vanished mysteriously in time and the shifting desert sands, has been rediscovered — by some American anthropologists looking for water.

Five miles from the crumbling walls of the ancient city was a small native village, whose inhabitants shunned the ruins.

All in all, the city measured six miles long and five miles wide. Buildings, aqueducts and fountains were in good condition, as were the surrounding walls which were as much as 10 to 15 feet thick.

Fairservis explained that the most popular theory about the sudden disappearance of Peshawaran is that invaders cut off its water supplies. Other archaeologists believe that a natural

Beekeeper Proves Bees Keep Busy

RALEIGH, N. C. — (UP) — Beekeeper W. A. Stephen of North Carolina State college has figures to prove you're wrong if you think you are as busy as a bee.

The production of four pounds of red clover seed, said Stephen, requires about 1,000,000 individual flower pollinations. So to produce 10 bushels of seed per acre, there must be some 150,000,000 separate pollinations.

The honeybee is responsible for about 80 per cent of that work, said the beekeeper, and that figures out to 120,000,000 visits by honeybees.

LEATHER WASTE — According to the Leather and Shoes magazine. The other 40 pounds consist of salt, water, fat, trimmings and fleshings.

Blasts Special Fund of Truman, Actions of Income Tax Workers

NEW YORK—President Truman says income taxes must be raised.

By special rush-act of his own Democratic 81st Congress, Mr. Truman gets a tax-exempt raise of $50,000 a year disguised as an expense allowance.

Excerpt from a letter signed "C. P. Lee," 1411 Ingleswood street, North Arlington, Va.: "My daughter, a school girl working part time during vacation, made $202 in 10 weeks. Her employer withheld $22. On going back to school, she wanted the money for books. She spent one whole day visiting the income tax agencies. There were no forms. Not even printed yet. Could get one in November. Reason: She might not like school and decide to go to work. In that event she would have more to pay and if her refund was granted now they would only have to take it again, provided she earned less than $600 for the year. Her employer, a small dress shop, had to make ten withholding entries as well as listing withholdings for my daughter. The income tax agents could not be bothered with such minor details at this time."

Excerpt from congressional appropriation: "For the expenses of the White House office" and so forth and so forth, "and travel and official entertainment expenses of the President, to be accounted for solely on his certificate: $1,375,140."

"To be accounted for solely on his certificate" means that he merely says he spent so much. He doesn't have to prove anything. Truman's word is good absolutely. The citizen's word is absolutely no good.

Excerpt from President Truman's message to Congress disapproving income tax bill, June 17, 1947: "The reductions proposed are neither fair nor equitable. The bill reduces taxes in the high brackets to a grossly disproportionate extent as compared to the low brackets."

Excerpt from speech by Senator John J. Williams, of Delaware, Jan. 13, 1949: "As it is now, the President, in addition to $75,000 salary, receives $40,000 expense allowance which must be accounted for. During the war years this was augmented by special fund allotted to the President to be handled at his discretion."

(It was $50,000,000 and nobody knows what happened to the money.)

Resuming excerpt from Senator Williams' speech: "This bill proposes to continue this expense allowance of $40,000" (In addition to the $1,375,140 above).

"Supplementing those expense allowances, this bill increases the President's salary from $75,000 to $100,000 and grants him a special, tax-exempt $50,000 upon which no accounting would be required. The salary under this bill is $150,000 of which $50,000 is tax-exempt."

PRESIDENT TRUMAN gets three furnished houses, rent free. He is not required to report the value of such rent as additional income. If he were, the combined rent would be at least $1,000 a week. His free rent is not "income" because he lives in those premises for "the convenience of his employer," the 48 United States. Not the people, mind you. The people are not his employers. He is employed by the states.

Another citizen, a caretaker, living in a two - room cabin "for the convenience of his employer," was taxed on back rental of $30 a month for three years, plus penalties and interest, on the ground that occasional visits to town interrupted the continuity of his watchman'ship.

Mr. Truman often interrupts his continuity of residence. When he gets tired of Blair House he goes to Shangri-la or Key West out to Independence or cruising on a yacht provided free by the citizen tax-payers concerned in this account.

Greatest Lady of Them All Nears 63rd Birthday, Still Looks Fine

THE STATUE OF LIBERTY—the Greatest Lady of Them All—will be 63 years old on Friday, October 28th. . . . She hasn't lost her face or figure, despite wind, rain, two wars and ten Presidents.

In 1886, she cost the French $700,000 and the U. S. $500,000, and after 63 years, she still looks like a million bucks.

"They've called the Statue many things in her time. When Congress accepted her officially as a gift from the French people in 1877, many newspapers denounced the idea of a Statue of Liberty as "pagan and idolatrous" . . . It took almost ten years to raise the money for her pedestal, and both Boston and Philadelphia tried several times to take the Statue away from New York . . . But there she stands, smack in the middle of N. Y. harbor, "the patriot's pride and the mariner's guide."

They call her Lady of the Harbor, the Green Goddess, the Big Girl, Lady of the Lamp, Mother of Exiles, the New York Colossus, Her Grace, the Old Lady—and Miss Liberty!

Miss Liberty is 152 feet high, has a 35-foot waist . . . Her right arm is 40 feet long, her index finger 7 feet long. Her head is 10 feet thick, her nose 4½ feet long, her mouth 3 feet wide, each of her eyes 2½ feet wide.

She is sightless; her eyes have no pupils, though sculptor Bartholdi's original designs called for them . . . She weighs 225 tons, and sways ever so slightly with the wind.

She is built to withstand a gale of up to 141 miles an hour, theoretically, but the National Park Service, which controls Bedloe's Island on which the Statue stands, estimates all 12½ acres of the island would have to be blown upside down before Miss Liberty would be affected!

Miss Liberty is a dice-shooter's dream—has seven spikes in her crown, 21 points in her star-shaped pedestal . . . Fifteen people could sit around the flame of her torch . . . Her thumb-nail is a foot long and a child could stand up in the thumb . . . Her copper-plate skin is only 3-32 of an inch thick, or the thickness of a half-dollar.

She is 3 times bigger than the ancient Colossus of Rhodes, which lasted only 59 years and cost 4 times as much . . . Except for the addition of a heating system to make her damp-proof, several bights, and some changes in her lighting apparatus, she is exactly the same as she was 63 years ago.

In 1926, a watch-manufacturer offered to give her a luminous wrist-watch to afford sightseers "the correct time as well as the proper inspiration," but the offer was turned down as undignified.

Almost 12 million people have traveled out to the Island to see Miss Liberty . . . Her biggest season (the travel year is reckoned from October to October) was in 1945-47 when 566,000 visitors were clocked. Last year, this number dropped to 504,000.

Eighty-five per cent of its guests are from out-of-town—and every state in the Union and every country in the world is represented on the guest-ledger . . . 80 per cent of the visitors walk the 168 steps from the top of the pedestal to the crown.

Tag Day Set Saturday

Mansfield Chapter No. 136, Navy Mothers Club of America, will hold its annual tag day Saturday, Mrs. William Jones, tag day chairman, announced today.

Mrs. Jones said 10 Navy mothers and 10 Senior high school girls will be on street corners in the business section to solicit funds for the club's work.

In announcing the tag day, Mrs. Jones said "We hope Mansfielders will be generous since this is the only appeal for funds we make during the year."

Mrs. Jones said part of the money will go to help finance the three hostesses clubs in the country still maintained by the Navy mothers, and the rest will go to the national organization to help finance parties in other veterans' hospitals.

NINE RECEIVE JEWELLED BADGE AT CEREMONY

Miss Loretta Anne Fink, President. Conducts Ritual of Jewels for Epsilon Iota, Beta Sigma Phi

At horse-shoe-shaped tables centered with tapers and fall flowers, the Epsilon Iota chapter of Beta Sigma Phi honored nine new members at a formal dinner last evening in the undercroft of the Grace Episcopal church. At the close of the dinner, Mrs. Fred Clift presented Mrs. Carl Patterson jr. with a gift from the pledges. As vice-president of the chapter, Mrs. Patterson conducted the pledges through their probationary period.

Immediately following the dinner, Miss Loretta Anne Fink, president of the group, read the candlelight ritual. The ritual table was set with a centerpiece of yellow roses, the sorority flower, surrounded by numerous long tapers in crystal holders. These formed a setting for the gold sorority crest embroidered upon the white satin altarcloth.

Miss Fink called the names of nine pledges who had fulfilled their pledge obligations, and there to receive the second-degree badge of the sorority, the jeweled badge. Those receiving the badge were: Mrs. Charles Atton, Miss Martha Brown, Mrs. Fred Clift, Mrs. Pierre Haver, Mrs. James Kennedy, Miss Marlee Leiter, Mrs. Eugene Matuck, Mrs. Gerhard Miels and Mrs. Robert Winters.

Assisting Miss Fink were Mrs. Carl Patterson and Miss Ruth Hammer as door attendants, while Mrs. Patterson presented the pins and flowers to the new members attending the display were Mrs. George Beck and Miss Hammer. Several piano selections were presented during the ceremony by Mrs. Richard Nicholas.

The membership committee directed by Mrs. Patterson was Costume is cut from black crepe paper, doubled for stiffness, and attached to the frankfurter so that the paper extends out in back like a gown flying in the wind. Canadian Eskimo Turns Into Plutocrat

By TOM MCQUAID
TORONTO — (UP) — The Canadian Eskimo, once regarded as a soft touch who would trade a wife for a handful of fish-hooks, has turned plutocrat. A. H. Gibson, magistrate of the Northwest territories on a visit here, reports that some Eskimos have gone into business and have become comparatively rich men. Gibson said one Eskimo, called "Big Shot," died recently and left an estate valued at $50,000. Many others were known to have as much as $12,000 in government bonds. This growing wealth has set the government on a program to educate the Eskimo in the use of wills. Under the former system, when a man died his neighbors grabbed everything if the family happened to be out spearing seals. In the case of Big Shot, a public administrator took over after his death to make sure there was a fair division of his bonds, tents, boats, sleds, dogs, outboard motors and radios. The Eskimos watched silently while the inventory was made, thinking the government's idea of settling an estate was to grab it. The Northwest Territories administration, instead of "cracking down" on the Eskimo for some of his age-old customs, like leaving the feeble to die, is approaching the problem constructively. Airborne health clinics and X-ray "round-ups" spread thousands of Arctic miles and aerial ambulances bring sick Eskimos to "outside" hospitals. Of the estimated 3,000 Eskimos in Canada, only 23 are living outside the Northwest territories, Gibson said. The white man's gadget most popular among them is the radio. Many carry battery sets on fishing and hunting expeditions. Gibson said. One far-north visitor reported entering an igloo in which three radios were going full blast. Cowboy music is by far the Eskimos' favorite radio fare.

Weaknesses Of Europe Revealed

Governments Lack Positive Policies

By WALTER LIPPMANN

Seen from the continent Attitudes seem to vary some months more before holding an election adds much to the general feeling that Europe is drifting.

In the key countries
Britain, France and Germany, there are in fact no governments capable of making sustained and firm commitments at home or abroad.

The principal governments are provisional, without a clear mandate, without a long expectation of life, without certain policies, and without ideas except for the very short run.

The Adenauer government at Bonn rests on a precarious coalition. It has only a very narrow majority behind it even in Western Germany. Its majority could be upset by the mere inclusion of Western Berlin in the Bonn parliament. And it is confronted with the competition of the East
German Government—a competition which is likely to be much more formidable than our much too hasty and halfhearted declarations have cared to recognize.

In France the coalition of the moderates which has administered French affairs for the past year does not have an effective working majority.
There is no near prospect of a government that can do much more than carry on the administration of the government departments.

The weakness of government on the continent could be compensated if there were a strong British government which knew its mind and could take the lead.
But in fact the condition of the continent is enormously complicated by the fact that there is no British government with a certain mandate and a clear policy on any important European question.

Nobody knows where Britain is going since the British themselves do not know, and are proposing to wait some months before they decide which party is to have the power to decide where they are going to go.

Everyone is compelled to assume that the British will not be able to make up their minds until there has been an election and many are wondering whether even then the election will be decisive if the full impact of the economic trouble
—now cushioned and postponed —has not yet made itself felt inside the British Isles.

No one can be certain that even the coming elections will be decisive enough to set the British government on any clear and certain course.

Thus events are in the saddle and the statesmen and politicians of these weak governments can do little more than hope that they will not be carried along helplessly by events.

Alan Ladd Beefs About 'Beefcake' Fad

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — (P) Alan Ladd has a beef — about "Beefcake," the new Hollywood trend toward exposing the male chest. Ladd, along with Victor Mature, Richard Conte, Robert Ryan and others, has been shown stripped to the waist in movie ads. "I don't like it," Ladd said on the "U. S. Mail" set. "I wish I could talk them into letting me stay covered up."

"I especially don't like the way they advertise a picture by showing you stripped to the waist. Usually if you do appear that way in the picture, it's only for a few scenes."

"The Great Gatsby" was the film exploited with Ladd's bare bosom. "That's foolish," he commented, "because I was playing a character role, not a pretty-boy personality. And the only time my chest was shown was during a swimming scene where I was shot."

Peggy Lee appears in her first full-length movie with Bing Crosby in "Mr. Music." The appearance was by request of Crosby, on whose air show she sings. She'll play a songstress name of Peggy Lee.

Dick Powell returns to hard-bitten roles in "Right Cross" He'll play a tough newspaperman (aren't they always tough in movies?) Ricardo Montalban portrays a prizefighter.

Margaret Sullivan went to the Radio City Music hall in New York one day recently. She walked in without noticing the picture. Somehow the story and dialogue sounded very familiar to her. She found out it was "In The Good Old Summertime," a remake of "Shop around the Corner" which she did with Jimmy Stewart.

Ava Gardner plans to return to her North Carolina home after "Carriage Entrance," but this time she hopes it will be a quiet homecoming. Last January she hoped for a rest and a family visit, but she found herself appearing for everyone from the chamber of commerce to the Boy Scouts. One day her niece persuaded her to go to school and Ava was given the class. She answered all the kids' questions about Hollywood.

Kent Smith planned a lengthy stay in "Good Housekeeping" with Helen Hayes. But when her daughter died, the show closed and Kent came west for "The Victim," leaving his family in New York. He expects to hear soon whether Miss Hayes will resume the play.

Note that in the "Jolson

Sings Again" billing, it's starring Larry Parks with Barbara Hale. Sounds strange, considering she plays the lead opposite Parks. Could be a move to get her an academy nomination as a supporting player, instead of in the highly competitive starring rank.

This actually happened: a star proposed closing a recent picture with a simple "I love you" between the romantic couple. The producer disagreed. "That's an old line," he said. "That line is 20 years old."

THE HARD AND EASY WAYS—It's easy to get your deer, but it's hard to get your gold, the two pictures above show. At left, Mike Magnifico, Aspen, Colo., dropped a 230-pound buck deer only a short distance from a ski lift and hauled his venison down the mountain the easy way. At right, however, a group of outdoors men face a rugged chore. The group arrived at Discovery Island, Alaska, to join the search for gold near where an island fishwheel showed traces of the precious metal. No ski lift will help them take their earnings out of Alaska and away from the current 15 degree-below-zero temperatures! The prospectors are (left to right) Charles Biderman, Earl Hirst, Jim Magoffin (pilot) and Sam Gambling.

Class Gives Two Plays

Senior class members of Springfield township high school will present two one-act plays in the school auditorium Nov. 10, L. C. Stengel, superintendent, announced yesterday.

The two plays are "The Prettiest Girl in Town" and "His, She's a Man."

Cast for "The Prettiest Girl in Town" will include: Joan Sunnucks, Opal Wilson, Evelyn Beymer, Jake Roehm, Mary Burdine, Ronald Metcalf, Lucille Groh, James Comstock and Bob Krauss.

Cast for the second play will include: Howard Sunnucks, Don Quinn, Bob Chilcote, Jackie Parsons, Betty Kordish, Irvin Brissell and Betty Eichelberger.

The plays are being rehearsed by Daryl Daniel. Music for intermission during the performance will be conducted by Herbert Krichbaum, school music supervisor. Mrs. Lois McCullough, senior class adviser, will confer on play details.

Seniors Pick Guiding Board

Eight senior class members at Mansfield's Senior high school, last night were voted members of the executive committee of the class, to supervise activities for the year. Announcement of the election result was made today by Philip Bolin, class president.

The eight include: Larry Incore, Jack Bargahiser, Charles Young, Frank Plaut, Jean Hathaway, Shirley Lay, Audrey Pirrigo and Betsy Clark.

These pupils, together with officers of the class, will determine class events for the 1950 graduating group.

Bolin announced the committee members for commencement invitations. They are James Cook, Leroy Farmer, Lloyd Lewis, Milka George, Joann Hallabrin and Mary Jane Holvax.

Belle of the Yukon Speaks Up

Klondike Kate Laughs At Tiny Nuggets

JEFFERSON, Ore. — (UP) — Klondike Kate, the belle of the Yukon who once earned $750 a night dancing for Alaskan sourdoughs, took a calm view today of the new fishwheel gold strike.

"So they've found nuggets the size of peas?" asked Kate, known formally now as Mrs. W. L. Van Duren. "Is that all the larger they are? Why, I've got a necklace with half a dozen nuggets larger than that."

Mrs. Van Duren said there was no chance that she and her husband would follow the rush to Fishwheel where men were panning and digging for gold today with a fever comparable to that of 50 years ago when the name of Klondike Kate was famous across the territory.

She said she and Van Duren were content to stay on their farm near here. But she had some expert advice for gold seekers.

"There are still fortunes to be made up there," she said. "But they'll have to be made the modern way."

"What you need is one bush pilot, a helicopter and some light mining equipment. There are hundreds of lakes in the Alaskan wilderness that can't be reached on foot."

Klondike Kate, now 69, was a teen-ager when she earned her title at Robust Dawson City. It was there that the sourdoughs relaxed and spent their pokes of gold.

She danced, acted, and entertained. Her dancing job and liquor commissions usually netted her more than $100 a night.

AKRON — # — Increased costs were blamed yesterday by the Firestone Tire & Rubber company as causing a boost in tire prices of 3½ per cent.

Benefits Hit Record In City Area

Social Security Checks Go To 4,023

A record high of 4,023 Mansfield area persons are receiving Social Security benefits totaling $78,301 per month, figures from the Mansfield office of the Social Security Administration indicate.

This is an increase of 17 per cent over 1948. Manager Edward P. Blanton reported and it is the highest on record for the Old-Age and Survivors' insurance program in this area.

It appears to be attributed to employment conditions, more persons reaching 65 years of age, and the realization that they were eligible, he added.

Figures for Richland county show 1,821 persons are receiving a total of $35,979 per month. Other counties serviced by the Mansfield office are Ashland, 649 persons receiving $13,267; Crawford, 740 persons receiving $13,952; Knox, 634 persons receiving $11,798 and Morrow, 179 persons receiving $3,305.

Payments are being made to retired workers over 65, their wives, widows over 65, widows with children under 18 in their care and aged dependent parents of deceased workers.

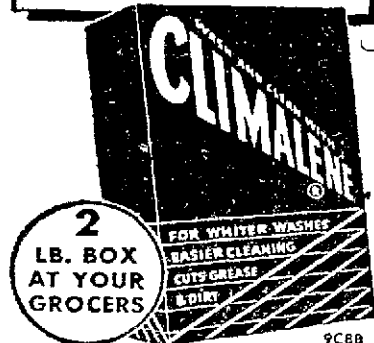

Canton's Bus Strike Ended

CANTON — (P) — With their pay raised a nickel an hour, AFL bus drivers climbed back behind wheels for the first time in four days Wednesday and drove their regular runs.

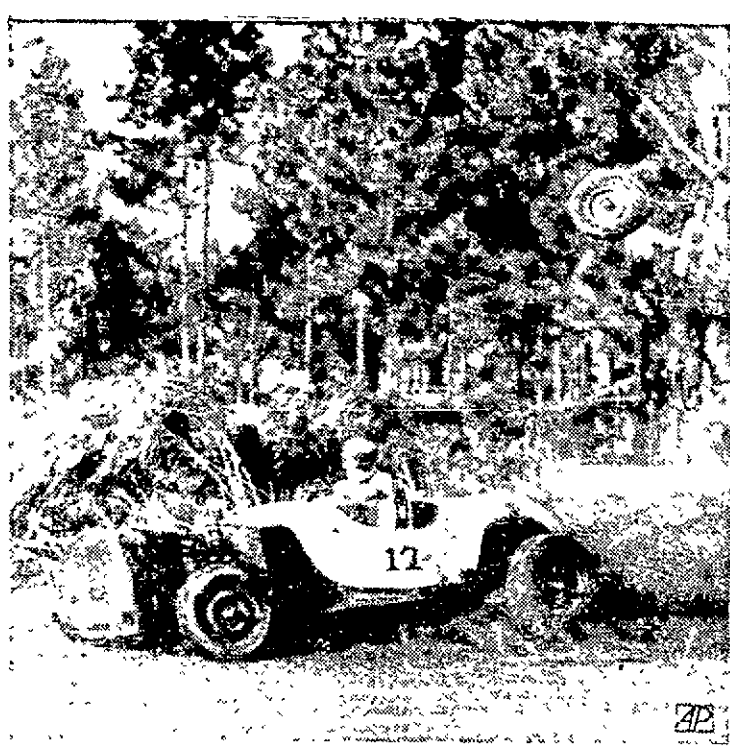

The three-day strike by the Canton Bus Drivers association, a teamsters' affiliate, ended last night. The raise puts the 116 drivers' pay at $1.37 an hour and the 32 mechanics' wages at $1.57.

Max Phillips, the union's president, said members approved the five cent offer by a three-fourths vote in a show of hands after an hour-long meeting.

Timken Union Plans Strike

CANTON — (P) — The CIO United Steelworkers have set Nov. 4 for a strike against the Timken Roller Bearing company unless settlement is made before then of a union demand for company-paid pensions for 10,000 Timken workers in five Ohio cities.

"There either will be a settlement on the pension issue in the next nine days or Timken will be shut down Nov. 4 at midnight," I. W. Abel, district director of the steelworkers, said.

The announcement came after Abel and W. E. Wycoff, president of the big Canton Timken local, conferred for an hour and a half in Cleveland with CIO President Philip Murray, who is also national head of the steelworkers union.

Backs Point Four Plan

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — (INS) — Agriculture Secretary Brannan said Wednesday that a program to aid backward countries of the world is necessary to develop new markets for the large U. S. farm surplus.

Brannan, speaking at the annual meeting of the Association of Land Grant Colleges and Universities, championed President Truman's "point four" program for aiding underdeveloped areas. He said the program is "one of the requirements for the maintenance of our own national prosperity."

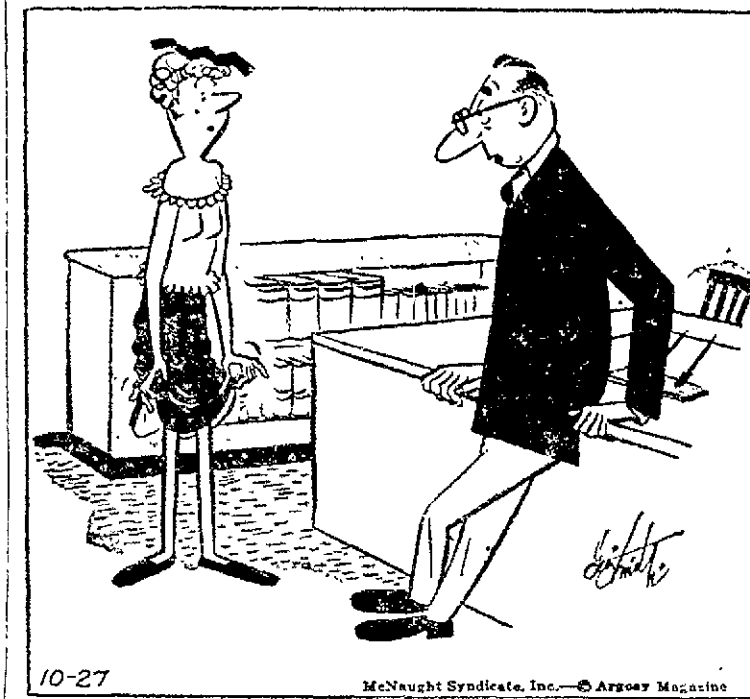

He pointed out that U. S. farmers now produce about 40 per cent more than in pre-war years and added:

"We need markets for prosperity — secure and expanding markets."

"As for the potential contribution of point four to national prosperity, we have only to recall the fact that no underdeveloped area of the world can possibly be a good customer for American agriculture and industry."

"This, it seems to me, is a sound, common sense program. It lays the groundwork for a healthier foreign trade in the future."

Two 15-year-old Mansfield girls, who had been truant from school, were warned by Probate Judge Stuart H. Cramer yesterday that if they are truant again

One of the girls lives on North Mulberry and the other on Van Buren street.

Signs New Wage Bill

WASHINGTON — (P) — President Truman Wednesday signed legislation boosting the minimum wage from 40 cents an hour to 75 cents.

The new pay "floor" for workers in interstate commerce becomes effective in 90 days. Congress members have estimated the 35-cent-an-hour increase in the minimum rate will hike the pay of up to 1,500,000 workers now getting less than 75 cents an hour.

The figure the increase will raise the wage bill of employers around $300,000,000 a year.

PAGE SEVENTEEN
Mansfield (Ohio) News-Journal
Thursday, October 27, 1949

William R. McComb, wage-hour administrator, estimates that direct wage increases caused by the law for workers now getting less than 75 cents will average between five and fifteen cents an hour.

Mr. Truman had asked Congress not only to raise minimum pay to 75 cents an hour, but to broaden coverage of the present law.

Congress met the president's request for a 75-cent minimum, but it narrowed the law's coverage instead of broadening it.

Judge Bares Legal Mixup In Divorces

Hundreds Found Still Married

CLEVELAND — — Hundreds of persons who believe they are divorced are still married, no matter what they heard the judge say at hearings.

Checks of Cuyahoga county records showed today that thousands of divorce proceedings here have not been completed although the husbands and wives believe they are divorced and may have remarried other spouses.

Judge Samuel H. Silbert brought the situation to light when he issued an ultimatum to lawyers in a daily law news advertisement, the judge listed 71 uncompleted cases and gave lawyers until Friday to straighten them out. If they fail he said he would throw the cases out of court.

The odd situation developed like this:

After hearing testimony judges here say something like "Divorce granted — gross neglect — O.S.J." That may sound like a final decision but it is not. "O.S.J." means "order see journal" which means that the judge has told the attorney to draw up a journal entry containing case facts and the court's ruling. The divorce is final when the judge signs that entry.

The catch is that in many cases over a great many years lawyers have failed to turn in the journal entries and the divorces are still hanging fire. Judges blame lawyers for saving some attorneys withhold the entries until clients pay fees. Lawyers blame judges claiming it is the duty of judges to draw their own journal entries.

IT'S EASY TO ENTER!

HERE'S ALL YOU HAVE TO DO:

- GO TO YOUR KROGER STORE AND GET AN OFFICIAL CONTEST ENTRY BLANK.
- SELECT ONE OF THE ADVERTISING SLOGANS PRINTED ON THE ENTRY BLANK AND WRITE THE NAME OF THE BRAND IT REPRESENTS.
- WRITE A LAST LINE TO THIS KROGER SLOGAN JINGLE:

"Live better for less" is the slogan to know. It tells me that all Kroger prices are low. I find all the brands that I like on display.

(Fill in the last line and make it rhyme with "display." For example: "And that's why I shop at my Kroger each day.")

Send in as many entries as you want. If you can identify all of the 51 slogans shown on the entry blank, send in an entry on each and increase your chances of winning big prizes. Attach to each entry the printed portion of the label that contains the brand name you select. Also attach to each entry the dated end from a Kroger Hot-Dated Coffee bag, or a 2-inch piece of the blue tear-off strip from a Kroger Vacuum-Packed Coffee can.

No Shortage Of Headaches

ATLANTA —(UP)— A pack aged medicine expert says that Americans have no shortage of headaches — of a personal na ture, that is

Don C Hamilton told the Rev-all Drug Company's interstate convention here that Americans have 7,500,000 headaches each year. This amounts to a national average of 50 per person. As a result, Hamilton said the nation will purchase 11,000,000 pounds of aspirin in 1949. Figuring two aspirins per headache, he says this will amount to 15,000,000 tablets. There are about 14,000 different kinds of mosses.

Reduce Season Ticket Cost On Little Theater Offerings

Mansfield Little Theater, Inc., is offering a bargain price, in line with lowered commodity prices, for the tickets for its three presentations this winter. W. G. Schultz, chairman of the group, said as season memberships have been lowered to $2.50 for the three play program. Last year's price was $3, but officials decided theater ticket should be in line with current price reductions.

Tickets for the first play, "Parlor Story" will go on sale Friday at the Farmer's bank. Richman Brothers Richland Trust company and the Mansfield-Leland hotel in addition to associate membership there will be guest memberships at $1.15 entitling the holder to one performance.

Students tickets at 35 cents each may be obtained later through junior and senior high school teachers here. Schultz said.

"Parlor Story" will be presented here on the nights of Dec. 6, 7 and 8. The Dec. 6 presentation will be for students only. This will follow the plan adopted last year of allowing Mansfield school pupils to see the performance in a special presentation.

In addition to "Parlor Story", Mansfield Little Theater, Inc., will present "The Inspector Calls" and "The Walrus and the Carpenter." These will be given after the Christmas holidays.

Fitchville 'Manse' Sale Set Saturday

Historic Site
To Be Auctioned

By HENRY PARNELL
N. J. State Correspondent
NEW LONDON — The 130-year-old "Manse" at Fitchville will be sold at public auction at 2:30 p. m. Saturday. This action was decided upon earlier this week to dispose of the historic building.

The frame structure, that has been everything from a hotel to a Grange hall, in recent years has become the target for all kinds of traffic entering State Route 162 from State Route 250 in nearby Fitchville.

L. O. Dunlap, auctioneer, states the building can be disposed of in three different ways: the entire building and lot in one piece, the building and lot separately, or the lot plus the two wings of the building separately. A settlement of $1,500 was reached with the Aetna Trucking company after one of its steel trucks rammed the building about four months ago. It was the blow that made demolition necessary.

One of the suggestions advanced is, that after the building has been removed, to let the State Highway department purchase the lot in order to eliminate the sharp turn and then add balance to the adjoining road-side park.

A short business session was held at the latter part of the evening, with a 69-6 vote in favor of forming a Huron County Teachers' association. Plans will be started at once.

Delegates and alternates were named to attend the Ohio Education association at Columbus, in December, as follows: Cecil E. Maret, principal, Fitchville

Johnny Appleseed Wins Junior High Title

Pioneer 11 Wins 13th Game In Row

BY FRED THARP

For the second straight year Johnny Appleseed reigns as the junior high football champion of Mansfield.

Last night before a cheering crowd of 6,500 at Arlin field, the Pioneers scored twice in the second quarter to defeat John Simpson, 13 to 7, in the annual battle. The victory was the fourth for Appleseed in the 10-year series between the two schools.

In winning their 13th straight victory over a two-year period, the Appleseed aggregation pushed 30 yards and 73 yards for the two TD's to come from behind to victory. Simpson had taken the opening kickoff and marched 84 yards for its only tally.

All of the last half, except the final two minutes was played in Simpson territory but neither team could do much yard gaining as numerous fumbles marred play. The first half, however, presented as good a display of offensive football as Arlin field has seen this year.

Both teams played during football and often carried the ball on the fourth down instead of punting. Each instance of this unorthodox signal calling resulted in a first down as the backs presented a good combination of power and hipper-dipper running.

W. B. Jones took the opening kickoff for Simpson and returned 18 yards to the 34. A fumble on the first play was recovered by Appleseed but the Pioneers were penalized for off sides. Two plays failed to gain the necessary yardage but on fourth down Benny Carbetta shed off tackle and raced 39 yards, the longest run of the game.

FUMBLE BECOMES TD

Darce Shasky hauled the Simpson fumble on behind on the Appleseed 17. Jim Schafer sped to the four but Carbetta lost one on the next play. Schafer fumbled a lateral from Carbetta and the teams kicked the ball around until it rolled into the end zone and End Tom Miller recovered for the only Pioneer score. Wesley Beck booted the seventh point.

Appleseed came roaring back after the kickoff and drove 72 yards to the Simpson seven only to lose the ball on downs. A Shasky run of 26 yards featured the drive.

Then late in the first quarter, the Pioneers recovered a Simpson fumble on the 30. Shasky was stopped for no gain and Ned Diemer was tossed for a seven-yard loss on a sweep. On third down Witzky bulldozed over guard for 14 yards to the 23 and added seven more on fourth down.

Ned Diemer pounded to the 10 and Witzky battered his way across the payoff stripe on a trap play. A fumble nullified the extra point try.

Two minutes later, Simpson was forced to punt and Carbetta kicked 27 yards to the Appleseed 36 but the Pioneers were penalized back to the 27 for clipping. Ned Diemer went for 14 yards and Witzky picked up 21 on a sweep bit of open field running. Diemer battled 23 yards on a trap to the Simpson 16.

Four plays later Shasky scored on a pitch out. Witzky bucked for the 13th point.

Witzky was the top leather lugger with 97 yards in 16 carries while Diemer went 83 in 19 attempts. Carbetta was the top Simpson runner with 49 yards in 10 tries. Pitchin' Paul Jaynes of Simpson completed six of 10 passes for 65 yards.

'13' Proves Lucky For Pioneers

BY EL TYGRE JR.

A crack Appleseed Pioneer eleven last night blazed two separate trails through Simpson Bulldogs for a 13-7 victory, chalking up their 13th consecutive victory.

The Pioneers, usually surprising everyone with tricky plays, settled down to steady and consistent ball, racking up yardage almost at will.

The Bulldogs, fighting back in the final moments, caught fire and came down the field like a ball of flame. Then an Appleseed back (Jim Witzky) intercepted a pass and poured water on the embers of hope still riding with the Simpson eleven. And 13 was the lucky number for Appleseed.

It was a cold night in the

7 Basketball Loops Plan: ed For F-H Gym

Plans for seven basketball leagues which will play one day weekly were announced today by Mike Wentz, athletic director of the Friendly House.

Leagues will play every night being left open because of the heavy schedule of high school games. Entry blanks are now available at the Friendly House and play will start around the middle of November. Practice sessions will be available to teams as soon as they are signed for league play.

An innovation will be a Monday afternoon league for men who work nights. Here's the complete schedule:

Monday — 2 p. m. league for night workers; Junior Optimist league at night.

Tuesday — junior league (15 and under).

Wednesday — Class B league (16-18).

Thursday — Class A league

Saturday — Grade school league in morning; Girls league (13-17) in afternoon.

The Class A league and Monday afternoon loop will be the only ones with no age limits. Wentz says that the class A league will be about the same speed as the City "B" loop and that the Monday afternoon league may be somewhat slower.

All leagues will have an entry fee with the exception of the Grade school, Junior Optimist and Girls loops. Amount of entry fee will be decided at a meeting of league teams.

Emil S. Ladyko, football coach at Arizona State college at Flagstaff, was assistant to Lou Little at Columbia last season.

Underdogs Given Hope By Upsets

Performances of Mansfield and Springfield in recording startling gridiron upsets last week has left all of the Buckeye state schoolboy powers in a dither.

Most of the powers play comparatively soft touches this week but all will be remembering what Mansfield did to Mighty Massillon and Springfield did to Hamilton's Big Blue. Mansfield knocked Massillon, 16 to 12, and Springfield took care of Hamilton, 14 to 6.

Now all the underdogs such as Kent, Roosevelt, Lorain, Alliance, Warren, Coshocton, Marietta, Ashland and Bowling Green have new hope.

Kent, of course, battles the Tigers at Arlin field tomorrow night in the big encounter in this area. The Roosevelt eleven has won only one game but refuses to be disheartened.

The other top games have Massillon playing Warren Hardina, Canton McKinley going against Alliance, Lakewood bat-

Madison and Bellville high schools will meet for the first time in seven years when they clash on the Madison gridiron at 8 o'clock tonight.

Janowicz Out Again With Second Injury

COLUMBUS — (UP) — Sophomore Fullback Vic Janowicz suffered a second leg injury yesterday, leaving Ohio State's football squad with only one uninjured fullback — Chuck Gandee.

The Buckeyes, in their practice yesterday, stressed pass defense and offense and sent the defensive lineup against a freshman squad using Northwestern plays. This followed a light offensive scrimmage against the Frosh.

New London Game Now Stated For Tomorrow Night

NEW LONDON — The New London-Lorain St. Mary's football game, scheduled originally for tomorrow night and then moved back to today, because of a teacher's meeting, has again been set for tomorrow. It will be played at Lorain at 8 p. m.

Although returning to full strength this week, the Cats are mindful of the fact that they are to be up against stiff competition. Lorain has won four games out of five and tied unbeaten Vermillion in the other contest. New London has won four and lost two.

The New London junior high squad will play the first game of its season this afternoon at Oberlin. The reserves play Huron Nov. 9 at New London.

Fete Honors Bob Zuppke

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. — (UP) — The 70-year-old son of a Berlin jeweler will be honored tonight by two generations of Illinois university football stars.

For, though eight years have gone since little Robert Carl "Bob" Zuppke last paraded the sidelines in his inevitable greatcoat which dragged the ground, the Illini have not forgotten him. Zuppke's most famous product, Red Grange, who played his way into football immortality by scoring four touchdowns in 12 minutes against Michigan in 1934, tops the list of visiting old grads.

Johnson Punches Win Over Bivins

PHILADELPHIA — (UP) — Harold Johnson, promising young Philadelphia light heavyweight, moved up among the name heavyweights last night with a ten-round decision over ring-wise Jimmy Bivins of Cleveland at convention hall.

In chalk-up his 27th and most important victory in 23 fights, 21-year old Johnson met Bivins' attack with a two-fisted offensive that carried him to a unanimous decision before a partisan crowd of 4,445.

Mikan Breaks Record

CHICAGO — (UP) — George Mikan's record-breaking 31 points led the Minneapolis Lakers to their second straight triumph over the Chicago Pistons by a 64-63 score in the 10th annual charity basketball game at the Chicago stadium last night.

Wooster's undefeated reserve team rambled over the Madison reserves, 34-0, yesterday at Madison field.

Wooster scored in every period and picked up every yard by sheer power smashes. The Generals threw only one pass and that was knocked down. Madison is still looking for its first victory although it has tied two games.

Corum Heads Derby List

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — (UP) — The name of Bill Corum, New York sports columnist, was moved to the head of the list today as the likely successor of the late Col. Matt Winn as planner of the Kentucky derby.

One member of the Churchill Downs committee going over the list of prospects to carry on for Colonel Winn, who died this month, confirmed late last night that Corum had been interviewed by the committee.

The committee's selection will be submitted to the downs' board of directors for final approval.

Cincy Loses

CINCINNATI — (UP) — A tight Buffalo defense yielded only once last night and the Bisons took a 2 to 1 American Hockey league decision from the Cincinnati Mohawks before 3,930 fans.

Al Simmons Says Club Needed Goat

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. — (UP) — Al Simmons says there are two reasons for his dismissal as a Philadelphia athletic coach.

First, says Simmons—a member of Connie Mack's championship teams of 1929-30-31—a "goat or goats have to be found" after the club finished two notches below the expected third place in the final American League standings.

Second, Simmons says he and Assistant Manager Earle Mack "never got along."

LaStarza Moves Up Ring Ladder With KO Victory

NEW YORK — (UP) — The international boxing club announced today that unbeaten Roland LaStarza of the Bronx had clinched a Madison-Square-Garden match with Cesar Brion, Argentine heavyweight, by knocking out big Walter Hafer of Maysville, Ky., in the ninth round at St. Nicholas arena last night.

LaStarza and Brion, the two outstanding young heavies in the world, will meet in a 10-round bout at the Garden on Dec. 9.

LaStarza, compact and brown-haired, registered his 36th straight victory by knocking out Hafer at 2:26 of the ninth round. Hafer was counted out as he lay half-suspended in the air.

Bill Veeck Plans To Marry Former Drama Student

CHICAGO — (UP) — Bill Veeck, president of the Cleveland Indians baseball club says he will marry a former Pittsburg and New York model as soon as his divorce from his present wife becomes final.

Veeck, 36, and the father of three children, said last night that "any talk of marrying now is certainly premature" and then added:

"I'm not denying the intention, although it's a little early to talk of it. If the girl is willing, I'll only be too happy to marry her."

The girl is Mary Frances Ackerman, 27, former dramatic school student at the Carnegie Institute of Technology in Pittsburgh. Veeck met her in Cleveland where she was handling public relations for the Ice Capades last year.
